Leadership Beaufort Graduates 10 Future Leaders

Leadership Beaufort 2017 recently graduated 10 future community leaders. This 3 month program provides an extensive overview of the community and teaches participants the intricate workings of many different aspects of our city and county. Congratulations to the Class of 2017: David Singleton (Washington Daily News), Emily Rebert (City of Washington-Planning), Darone Dancy (NC Works), Justin Rose (Beaufort County Community College), Sara Watson (Beaufort County Community College), Mary Boulder (Mideast Commission), Heather Thienpont (East Carolina Custom Imports), Meg Howdy (First South Bank), Nikki Klapp (First South Bank), John Butler (Washington Harbor District Alliance). Thank you PotashCorp-Aurora for sponsoring Leadership Beaufort's graduation luncheon.

Bright Futures Beaufort County Update

Bright Futures Beaufort County has great church and business partnerships. Thirteen of the fourteen schools in the Beaufort County School system now have a Bright Futures site council with business and/or church partners. We currently have over 37 church and business partnerships with schools. A special thanks to PotashCorp Aurora for bringing Bright Futures to Beaufort County. It is making a huge difference in the lives of students in Beaufort County.

Pictured here is an Angel Tree at Fitness Unlimited. Fitness Unlimited partners with John Small School and their members provided gifts for 63 children at JSS this Christmas.
